Book Revue is pleased to announce that Bethpage Federal Credit Union is now a proud sponsor of Book Revue's author events.

Book Revue has been closely involved with the Huntington community for thirty years. It is pleased to be teaming up with a financial institution dedicated to providing Long Islanders with friendly, safe and honest financial service. Book Revue looks forward to working with Bethpage Federal Credit Union in continuing the success of its author events while making people aware of the goals and services of the Credit Union.

To kick off the new partnership, Bethpage Federal Credit is offering to buy its new members their next book.
